CANADA'S GOVERNOR OUR ROYAL VISITOR PLEASED AT SUCCESS

SPECIAL TRIBUTE FROM THE DUKE TO CAMPAIGN WORKERS—THEIR ROYAL HIGHNESSES HERE ON DEC. 12TH CONFERRING OF DECREE ON THE DUCHESS AN EVENT WITH ONLY ONE PARALLEL AT MCGILL

The climax of the campaign was reached when a telegram arrived from His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, and visitor of McGill University. It is peculiarly gratifying to feel that our new Visitor is taking a very keen interest in the welfare of the University.

Mr. R. B. Angus,
Chairman Campaign Committee.

"As Visitor to McGill University and Governor-General of Canada, I wish to congratulate you and your energetic workers on the astonishing response which your appeal has elicited. To have collected over a million and a half dollars in five days is a result which few cities in the world could have achieved and shows that Montreal has a proper appreciation of its great university."

ARTHUR.

Such a generous tribute from such a quarter is difficult to adequately acknowledge. We are sure that when His Royal Highness visits McGill on Dec. 12th the welcome extended to him will be a memorable one.

A unique feature of the ceremonies of Dec. 12th will be the presentation of an honorary degree to the Duchess of Connaught. This will be the second occasion of the kind in the history of the University, the first being in 1901 when the present Queen (at that time the Duchess of York) very graciously consented to receive McGill's greatest honour. All members of McGill, whether governors, faculty, graduates, or undergraduates can look forward to a scene of unusual brilliance and dignity, when the Duke and Duchess will visit us.

ARCONAUTS VANQUISHED BEFORE THE ONSLAUGHT OF COLLEGE CHAMPIONS

VARSITY WINS MAGNIFICENTLY—SATURDAY A BANNER DAY FOR COLLEGE TEAMS—CADETS WIN INTERMEDIATE AND JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF CANADA

For the third successive time Toronto University has won the football championship of Canada. For the third successive time the superiority of intercollegiate football has been conclusively demonstrated. Before a tremendous crowd of over 18,000 people the Interprovincial Champions once again licked the dust. The Daily's special representative wires as follows:

"Varsity kept on defensive in first quarter but outplayed Argos all through the last three quarters. The slippery field handicapped Varsity greatly. On a dry field they would have added at least 10 points. It was a case of Varsity's running and passing game and trick plays against straight football. Varsity won by their all-round superiority, but chiefly on the speed and combination of their back division. Campbell's work at quarter; his magnificent tackling and ability to take advantage of every mistake of Argos were wonderful. Varsity fumbled far worse than Argos but Argos' wings were not fast enough to turn them to account. Lawson was never prominent. Argos made yards only twice on bucks against Varsity line but did well on defence. Criss-crosses and end runs netted Varsity big gains and kept Argos guessing the whole game. Varsity's combination was wonderful. Green and Maynard out-punted Mallett and Binkley. Ramsay, Maynard, Campbell, Hassard and Green starred for Varsity; Mallett for Argos. Dodging of Maynard and Green phenomenal. Hassard's following-up and tackling best seen in years. He is undoubtedly the find of the season. Varsity's backs fumbled badly in first five minutes, but all braced up against Ramsay who more than redeemed himself by his magnificent running which was the sensation of the game. Six of his runs netted over 160 yards. Eighteen thousand people present."

Details of the game and all particulars together with general criticism will appear in our issues of Wednesday and Thursday.

CADETS WIN.

At the M. A. A. A. grounds yesterday the Junior and Intermediate Rugby Championships were decided. R. M. C. Senior and Junior teams playing the second and third Montreal teams respectively.

The first game was that between R. M. C. IIs and Montreal Juniors and resulted in a win for the Cadets after an overtime game. The score was 17-16 and it indicates the play which was very even throughout.

The teams:

R. M. C. — Barwis, Hutchison, Greey, Ross, Tenniston, Hay, Fraser, Leach, Patterson, Fisher, Vander, Mathews, Gendron and Bishop.

Montreal — Hodgson, McPherson, Abraham, Deenan, Blacklock, Scott, Nelson, Lovell, Trenholme, Buchnell, Watt, McKay, Van Horne, Dawson and W. Scott.

The score stood 12-10 Cadets leading, at half time and in the second period Montreal secured a touch which McPherson converted, while R. M. C. made four points all on rouges on touches in goal, thus making the

LOCATION OF A NEW GYM.

The excitement and rush of the Campaign are over. The committees set out with the intention and determination of securing a million dollars. They did not dream of being able to exceed this sum. The million was secured and more besides. It seems hard to realize that over a million and a half dollars was given to McGill in the space of five days. Never before has this been done in any city in the world. Last week goes down as a record which will stand for many years.

The fact that a feature of the final half day's canvass was the co-operation of over 4 thousand undergraduates adds a pleasing aspect to the situation. It means that every part of McGill is interested and enthusiastically interested. It means that we all can share in the general satisfaction at the phenomenal results and that we all can feel a particular interest in the disposition of the funds thus obtained.

In 1910 the graduating classes tried to organize a new gymnasium scheme. Their plan was excellent and would have probably succeeded. It is not until now, however, that everyone sees why the governors and faculty rather discouraged a big canvass at that time. There is no doubt but that such action would have seriously handicapped the present campaign and the policy of the governors was far-seeing. Enough money has been gathered to help McGill in many departments. The professoriate will now receive enlarged salaries; the equipment in the various branches can be kept right up to date; the general endowment fund will be increased; and still there will be something left for a gymnasium or dormitories or possibly both.

A new gymnasium for McGill will mean much. The present building is notable chiefly for its utter inadequacy. There are no proper facilities of any kind. Every branch of athletics that attempts to make its headquarters in the gym is subject to a fatal handicap. With a gymnasium like the one at Queen's, or Varsity, we shall add a great deal to the tone of the student body. But there are several important problems to solve before a new gymnasium can be really undertaken. Where is it to be? It is obvious that such a building should be in easy access of the majority of students. The immediate neighborhood of the Union would be best but as this is out of the question we must look elsewhere. Fletcher's Field is rather remote but as a last resort would serve to popularize our new grounds. The property between the grand stand on the Campus and McTavish Street has excellent qualifications. An imposing gymnasium here would set-off the semi-circle of buildings which extends right round the campus. Then there is the objection that some day a stadium might be built on the campus and that a gymnasium would preclude such a possibility. These are some problems which might well call for earnest consideration. We take this occasion of inviting correspondence on the subject of a gymnasium and its location. Dormitories will be brought up in our issue of Wednesday.

ALL HONOUR TO THE U. OF T.

History repeats itself with remarkable regularity. Two years ago McGill took off her hat to Varsity, winners of the football championship of Canada from the Ottawa Rough-Riders. Last year we again extended a congratulatory hand to our old time rivals, when they "bearded the Tiger in his den." This year there was more than usual interest in the race for first honors in both leagues. The Interprovincial teams tried to change their tactics to cope with their younger and more scientific collegian rivals. But it was of no avail. Varsity won and won splendidly. With weather conditions most unfavorable to their style of play the Blue and White put up a magnificent game.

In these repeated victories of Varsity McGill feels a particular sympathy and interest. We all know and appreciate the sporting spirit of the Toronto team and its supporters. They pass through game after game and no one can point a finger at anything underhand or "dirty." It is by playing beautiful football and by inspiring into this football the determination and devotion of the "Varsity spirit" that the U. of T. has landed three successive Canadian Championships. HERE'S TO YOU VARSITY—OLD MCGILL IS PROUD OF YOU, AND BOWS IN RECOGNITION OF THE WELL-MERITED HONORS WHICH ORGANIZATION, SCIENCE, CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP, AND SPIRIT HAVE WON FOR THE BLUE AND WHITE.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the student campaign Friday afternoon the Medicals did splendid work. They turned out in full force and their committee meeting immediately after the mass meeting was particularly enthusiastic. Over 300 or about 90 p. c. of the whole faculty joined in the canvass. While it is difficult to estimate just exactly what proportion of the total amount collected was brought in by Medicine still we have no hesitation in saying that fully one-third of the amount was accounted for by the local disciples of Aesculapian. Individual subscriptions from medical students are on the average a little better than in any other faculty and show a remarkably fine spirit. We are sorry that in our Campaign Extra we omitted definite mention of the Meds. Contrary to utterly false and malicious statements we did not wish to slight the medical students or do them any injustice. Our headlines "EVERY UNDERGRADUATE" were meant to include all students irrespective of faculty. We are sorry that we failed to secure a detailed report of the Med Campaign but we still believe that in view of the fact that Friday's paper was our first extra and that it was turned out on the spur of the moment, it is decidedly unfair to accuse any member of the staff of mal-intention or prejudice.

Credit for Friday's student Campaign lies primarily with the fraternities whose efficient organization started the ball rolling. The Students' Council then took action and had the scheme exploited all over the university. The undergraduates of all faculties—Medicine, Science, Arts and Law responded nobly.

A CANADIAN'S IMPRESSIONS AT OXFORD

The Daily received a few days ago a very interesting letter from Dr. Harry F. Angus, who graduated in Arts last year. Mr. Angus is now at Balliol College, Oxford, where he is taking a post graduate course in Arts. He writes that he was at a debate at the Oxford Union some little time back at which the question of Reciprocity between Canada and the United States was the subject discussed. Mr. Clearhue of Arts '11 being one of the speakers. Mr. Clearhue was last year chosen as Rhodes Scholar from British Columbia. Mr. Angus tells us that he had never heard such inaccurate statements about Canada as those which were made during the course of the debate.

As an example, it was stated that there were thirty-six Nationalists in the Canadian Parliament, headed by Mr. Bourassa, and that three of them were members of the Cabinet. Mr. Angus compared the methods of training for the different sports at Oxford and at McGill; to quote from his letter:

"All Freshmen here are expected to turn out with the boat crews and those who care to go on with it are carefully coached by the older students, apparently irrespective of whether they have any particular ability or are ever likely to make good oarsmen. This is a real point of superiority which sport has at Oxford over that at McGill, but to a certain extent I think Murray is paving the way in this direction in regard to track sports."

TRAGEDIES IN A LEMON SKIN

No. 2—THE PRISON SELL.

The bolts shot home with a clang. The sound of the gaoler's footsteps echoed in the corridor and then died away in the distance. Seated on his stone pallet, Percival, with the instinct of a true hero of romance, inspected his cell carefully. Truly the prospect was not a pleasing one; a single ray of sunlight filtered through a loophole high in the wall enabled him to perceive the fetid slime on the floor, the moisture dripping down the walls.

A realization of his desperate position rushed over him and overwhelmed him with despair. He buried his head in his hands.

Of a sudden, in the castle garden outside, a beautiful voice lifted itself in song; lost in the gloomy mazes of his pessimistic thoughts the heroic youth at first paid no heed, but gradually the voice gained his attention and this is what he heard:

"Have courage friend, be of good cheer,

"Your gallant band doth not know fear,

"We'll fill your keepers full o' beer

"And get you safely out of here."

Youth is ever sanguine and a fierce hope filled his soul; all was not yet lost, his gallant men outside were working for his safety and had already conceived a plan. Restlessly he paced up and down his cell.

Suddenly he sank on his pallet with a moan of despair. Little did his followers realize the true hopelessness of their plan. Not possessing the same broad geographical knowledge as Percival they could not see the utter impossibility of their attempt.

rooted for the Crimson.

Both teams missed easy opportunities to score. In the first period Yale had possession on the Crimson 20 yard line, but Ketcham's pass rolled loose and when Howe recovered it was too late to execute a drop. Potter, the Crimson quarter, also missed a good chance in the second period. Harvard had the ball on Eli's 24 yard line, but Potter's direction was poor and the ball swung wide by at least two yards. In all five attempts were made, but all without success.

Both the back divisions showed a tendency to loose play and the line men were called on to do the heavy work. The Blue backs did not display their usual judgment in capturing kicks, but this was probably due to the varying light of the concrete stadium.

One of the features of the game was a forty-yard run by Philbin, Yale's star full back.

BROWN 6, TRINITY 6

Brown and Trinity played a 6-all tie in Providence on Saturday. Trinity came confident of humbling the Brown and White but her fast eleven had to be satisfied with a draw. Andrews Field was in good condition, but this was not considered a good omen for Brown, who have shown such marked ability this year in handling a wet ball. Brown will play the Carlisle Indians next Thursday and were saving their men.

INDIANS OVERWHELMED JOHNS HOPKINS.

Smarting from their recent defeat at the hands of Syracuse the Carlisle Indians overwhelmed Johns Hopkins on Saturday by the score of 26 to 6. The Redskins outlasted their opponents in every department of the game.

Carlisle has still another game to play against Brown next Thursday. The Indians were out to try every trick on their list and judging from the way they worked their plays on Saturday they ought to be strong contenders for Brown.

Saturday's game was Baltimore's biggest football fixture, and a large crowd was in attendance.

LAFAYETTE 11; LEHIGH 0.

Under perfect weather conditions, Lafayette downed her old rival Lehigh on Saturday by the score of 11 to 0. The game was played on Lehigh Field and was of supreme moment to the students of the two colleges. Lafayette had a slight advantage in weight on the line but Lehigh was much heavier in the back division.

Since 1884 Lafayette and Lehigh have played 43 games, Lafayette has won 24 and Lehigh 13.

HOCKEY SQUAD OUT

LIGHT BASKETBALL WORKOUT IN GYM.

The Senior Hockey squad had its first meeting in the Gymnasium on Friday night. Thirty men were out and a light basketball practise was indulged in. Eighteen men were in uniform, while twelve were in shirt-sleeves. Out of the thirty men it is said that at least twenty will be strong candidates for positions on the Senior septette, and that present holders will have to do some tall hustling in order to stick with the team.

The Daily is in possession of some interesting news which should greatly affect the state of the Red and White team this year. However, this is not sufficiently authentic as yet to occupy space in our columns, but we hope to be in a position to make a definite announcement in Wednesday's issue.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir: I notice that in Monday's issue of the "Daily," the Student Volunteer Band is described in passing as "an organization which aims at giving instruction and assistance to the poorer class of foreigners," and feel that a few remarks are necessary, despite the fact that a good description of the Volunteer Band appeared in a former issue of this paper.

Far be it from me to deny the truth of the above description, for every Volunteer tries to take an active part in our Home Mission Work, but the Band is, first and foremost, a group of men who have signed the declaration, "It is my purpose, if God permit, to become a foreign missionary." Further description is needless. Our time is naturally spent largely in preparation for the work on the foreign field, and, too, in trying to interest others in missions, and to enlist them in the cause.

Yours sincerely,
K. W. DOWIE.

NOTED AUTHOR AND PROFESSOR HERE

McGill students should be specially interested in the coming of Prof. Richard G. Moulton, Ph. D., of Chicago, to the city on Sunday next. It is several years since Dr. Moulton lectured to McGill students on the Book of Ecclesiastes, but his address is still vividly remembered by those who were fortunate enough to hear him. Next Sunday he will speak both morning and evening at St. James Methodist Church, his subjects being: "The Gospel of St. Matthew: Its Special Significance," and "What is the Greatest Verse in the Bible?" The pastor of St. James, Dr. Sparling, extends a special invitation to all McGill students to be present and hear Prof. Moulton, who is a world-wide authority, not only on Biblical literature, but also on Shakespearean criticism, and is the author of several works in our library.

HISTORICAL CLUB DISCUSS FAMOUS ARCHITECTURE

A well attended meeting of the Historical Society was held Thursday night in the Architectural Lecture Room. The programme of the evening was left in the hands of the architectural members, who read three interesting papers combining the history and architecture of famous buildings.

The first paper read was by Mr. Harrison on the Chateau de Blois. It had originally been a fortress, but was changed by Charles the Mad to a Chateau. Mr. Harrison traced the history of the building through many historic and architectural difficulties. While originally belonging to the Duc de Blois it became one of the chief residences of French royalty, and was the scene of many murders, intrigues and revels. Mr. Harrison used a number of lantern slides to show the scenes of these events and to point out the architectural features.

The second paper was by Mr. Hyde, who, in a very able manner, dealt with the palace of Versailles. The buildings were commenced by Louis XIII, Louis XIV. it was, however, who made the spot famous for its magnificence. During his reign the court reached its height, and at one time, could, and did, accommodate as many as ten thousand people. But, though costing 200 millions of dollars, it has nothing to recommend it, but size. The chief fault with the entire scheme is stiffness and artificiality.

The third paper dealing with Hampton Court Palace was by Mr. Anglin. Mr. Anglin showed how closely this palace had been associated with English history, from Henry VIII. and his six wives down to the present day. A great deal of the work is an excellent piece of Tudor Art, while the remainder is the work of the famous Sir Christopher Wren. Mr. Anglin pointed out a serious fault in the fact that while essentially the same in all other features, the South front was two inches shorter than the East one. Despite this fact the beauty of the building has been recognized by the English people. It is now open to the public and contains a most famous and valuable collection of art objects.

DR. PERRIN'S LECTURE POPULAR IN MONTREAL

The interests of McGill students of Music are being kept by such visits as Dr. Perrin's last week to St. John, Halifax and other towns. The St. John speak very highly of his lecture there, which was largely attended and proved an artistic treat.

PRESIDENT OF COMMITTEE DESERVES MUCH CREDIT

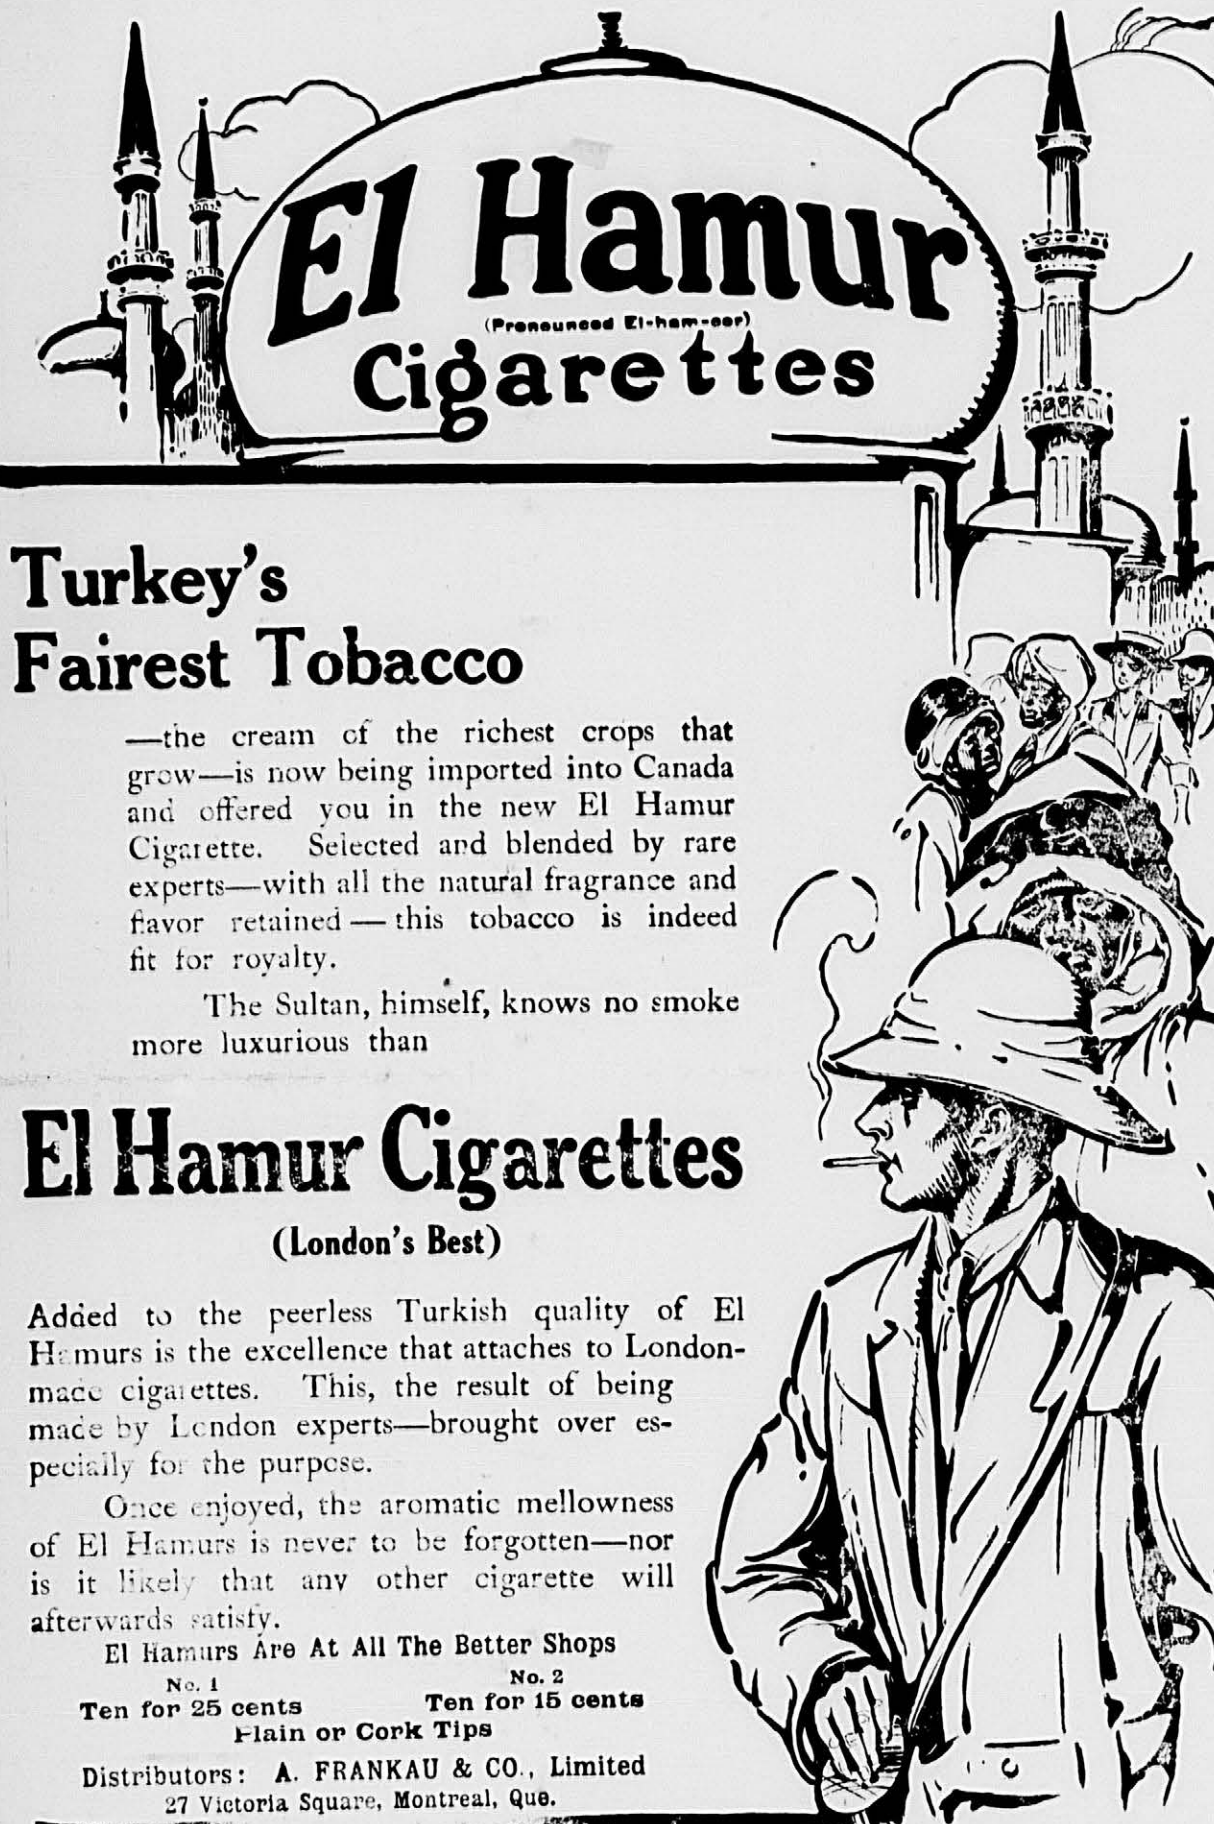

Mr. R. B. Angus, Pres. of the Campaign Committee, deserves much credit for its successful issue. The credit prestige derived from his appearing as the official head of the movement meant a great deal. His own generous contribution, followed up by such ardent devotion to the cause, was a splendid example which was followed in a splendid manner.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mr. W. E. Warburton, who entered the Royal Victoria Hospital Monday and was operated on for appendicitis, is now almost recovered. It is hoped that he will be able to resume his class on the 8th of December. Other men in the Royal Victoria Hospital are Mals and Cox, who are both proving rapidly.

need to play ten-minute quarters, in order to avoid the darkness.

The line-up:

Montreal — Burns, J. C. Riddell, Scott, Dean, F. A. Riddell, Smith, Hamilton, Corrigan, Marshall, Watter, Crankshaw, Savage, Douglas.

R. M. C. — Galt, Lawson, Carruthers, MacAulay, Blackstock, Gwynne, Shumberger, Reace, Roberts, Storms, Sweeney, Green, Greenwood, Mallory.

Soon after the kick-off Lawson ran the ball over for a try, which Roberts failed to convert. Montreal kicked off and Scott dribbled across the R. M. C. line and Douglas fell on it, thus evening the score. MacAul and Riddell were put off for five minutes each and were soon followed by Sweeney and Marshall.

Gwynne secured the ball on a pretty pass and got another touch. The half time score was R. M. C. 15; Montreal 5.

In the second period Cadets scored two tries, one by Storms and the other by Blackstock. The final score being Cadets 26; Montreal 5.

Both games were clean throughout, and fewer injuries caused than might have been expected owing to the condition of the ground which was not only very hard, but ice covered a large portion of the field.

In the intermediate game particularly, the wonderful passing and running of the Cadets' half backs was extremely effective and shows that they have been well coached and have practised faithfully besides being in the best of training.

CRUELING STRUGGLE ENDS IN SCORELESS TIE

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., NOV. 25. SPECIAL TO "DAILY."

Yale and Harvard battled to a tie in their annual game on Saturday, neither team being able to score. The result was particularly satisfactory to lovers of the sport as it is seldom that two such evenly matched elevens have lined up on an American gridiron. Friday night's frost had frozen the Cambridge Campus hard and it was lucky for the players that a good matting of straw had been laid on the field. The gridiron, while by no means perfect, was not muddy, and in comparison with last Saturday's field was as dry as Boston at eleven p.m.

Friday's betting showed Yale a favourite at 8 to 5, but before the Eli supporters wanted even money. Both Princeton and Dartmouth elevens were present at the game. The Orange and Black champions were in sympathy with Yale while Dartmouth, after giving a very close contest, sided with Harvard so close a contest,

NAVY 3, ARMY 0

CAPTAIN DALTON'S FIELD GOAL ONLY SCORE

In one of the most bitterly contested games of the season, Navy defeated Army in their annual football fixture on Saturday. The only score of the game came in the second period, when Dalton, the Navy captain dropped a beautiful field goal from 35 yards out, winning the game for the Middles by 3 to 0.

When the teams lined up on Saturday each had the proud distinction of going through the season without a defeat. This fact, in addition to the reputation of both teams as fighting organizations, and the strong traditional rivalry between them contributed to the unusual interest in the outcome of the struggle.

Twenty-five thousand persons witnessed the game, including the Secretaries of Navy and War. President Taft was unable to be present, but Washington was well represented in a host of official people who journeyed to Philadelphia to see the contest.

Dalton and Gilchrist pulled off some spectacular plays for the Middles, while Hyatt starred for the Cadets. The game was replete with stirring incidents and is one of the hardest fought contests ever played in the history of Annapolis and Wash-

NEW ERA FOR MCGILL--MR. CASSIDY'S OPTIMISTIC STATEMENT

WILSON ORGANISER FEELS A PARTICULAR INTEREST IN WELL-BEING OF THE UNIVERSITY--HAS GREAT FAITH IN MOVEMENT TO GET INTO CLOSER TOUCH WITH GRADUATES

R. A. Cassidy, who has been to assist in the Campaign, and whose organizing ability has been of considerable value to those who know him, was interviewed Saturday afternoon by the Daily. He said:—Although the endowment fund so successfully raised will relieve McGill from its immediate financial embarrassment and enable the university to plan for a wider sphere of work, there will be a permanent as a result of the campaign apparent to all of those who have not been identified with the movement. The university has been brought into closer touch with the business community, and the capacity of industry and merchant to realize as never before the value of McGill is to Montreal. The responsibility that they must bear in supporting the future. The advent of a young and progressive business community on the Board of Governors will bring this new bond of interest between the downtown educational centre and the downtown financial world, community at large would be disposed to rally to the support of Old McGill if any other emergency should arise, and every step taken by the immediate guardians of the university will be watched by everyone who has subscribed to this and by all of those who have been attracted by the newspapers to that position that Canada's metropolitan educational centre occupies in the world of scholarship. Cassidy seems to me to be a new era for McGill, and, as a graduate of the University of Toronto, it has been a pleasure for me to assist in the raising of this fund. Toronto

Hockey squad will workout tonight at 7 o'clock in the gymnasium. All up. It is hoped that the splendid attendance of last practise will in no way diminish.

SOCIETE FRANCAISE.

The Societe Francaise will hold its last meeting before Christmas this afternoon at half past four o'clock. All members are requested to be present as an interesting programme has been arranged.

LE CERCLE FRANCAISE.

There will be a meeting of the Cercle tonight at 8.15 in Strathcona Hall. All interested in conversational French are invited to attend.

B. L. SILVER, Sec.

On Friday night the Lit. will have a semi-impromptu practice debate, preparatory to the Reford Cup contest the following week. All entries for the Reford Cup contest were called for Saturday evening. The limit, however, has been extended, and entries will be accepted up until Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. All entries must be in writing and sent either to the Secretary or President. Friday's programme will be a unique one and should prove of special interest. At 8.45 Friday morning all competitors in the cup contest and other Lit. members up to a limit of 15 will assemble in the Editorial Office to receive subject allotments. Three subjects will be given out and drawings will be made for side and subject. Then changes can be made at the discretion of the speakers. The subjects will be live ones of present-day interest and will not take much preparation. If you intend competing in the Reford Contest of either this year, or in some future year, you can do nothing better than take advantage of this opportunity. REMEMBER FRIDAY MORNING AT 8.45—OFFICE OF THE DAILY.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION NOTICE.

A meeting of the Athletic Association Executive will be held in Strathcona Hall on Nov. 29th at 5 o'clock sharp.

ISLAM IN AFRICA

DR. THOMAS JAYS MADE INTERESTING ADDRESS YESTERDAY.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Thomas Jays of West Africa, gave a most interesting address on the above subject in Strathcona Hall.

After stating that Mohammedanism is the only truly missionary religion which Christianity has to face, Dr. Jays went on to give a description of the faith. It is often stated that the Mohammedan conception of God is that of the Jehovah of the Old Testament. This he proceeded to show is not the case.

The Mohammedans believe in God as an arbitrary being, swayed by his passions, and altering his treatment of individuals for different people. He may reverse his opinions of right and wrong from day to day. He has created all the evil that is in man: "God breathed into the soul of man its wickedness and its piety."

They have no conception of the love of God. All idea of the Fatherhood of God is lacking, and from this comes their lack of belief in the Brotherhood of man. The union of Mohammedan nations is not a brotherhood, but a union through the necessary community of interests. Islam takes hold of no country but it makes slaves. Part of its teaching is that the waging of war on unbelievers is meritorious.

It is true that the followers of Mohammed pray to the "All-merciful and all-compassionate One," but they have a different conception of compassion to ours. Allah is compassionate to a Mohammedan because he is a Mohammedan, and will overlook his sin. He, however, will punish an unbeliever for the same sin.

Within 100 years Islam extended itself from north-west Africa to India, and went over into parts of Europe. From the latter countries it was expelled, but it holds all the others to-day. Everyone of them is unprogressive and bankrupt, and is only upheld as a nation by the jealousies of the European powers. They were not always so, for Persia, before Islam touched it, was the wealthiest country in the world, with a large population. It is now bankrupt, with one-quarter the population it had before. This is due to the iniquity and immorality of the people.

Dr. Jays stated the pressing problem before the Christian Church of Christianizing the pagan inhabitants of Africa before Islam had gripped them. He contrasted the rapidity of the securing of converts in pagan Africa with the rate of conversion in Persia, which is Mohammedan, where only 40 converts are secured in a year after 100 years of work, while in Uganda which is pagan 3,000 are added per year after 30 years of work. Islam is pressing southward in Africa, and the task of the church should be to concentrate on the peoples just south of its advancing lines.

MEETING OF ELECTRICAL CLUB

The Electric Club held its regular meeting in the Engineering Building on Tuesday evening, November 21st. A very interesting paper was read by Mr. A. G. Cushing, 4th Year Electrical on "Cable and Cable Manufacture." The paper dealt with the drawing of the different sizes of wire used and the process of tinning.

Mr. A. M. S. Boyd, a grad. of Science '06, who is assistant engineer of the Wire and Cable Company gave a very interesting and illustrated lecture on the different forms of insulation used, the methods of manufacture and testing of cable.

The most popular man in Minnesota University will soon be decided by the votes of the co-eds.
